

MAGA Update 02

Well, he's been in office for one week and the chaos has already started. He pardoned 1500 of the J6 Rioters who were convicted of many violations against the Police.

He also fired 18 Inspector Generals from many government offices who oversee fraud & corruption. His nominees for his many Cabinet Secretary positions are still being vetted and considered by the Senate.

Different departments of The Justice Department have been rounding up over 1,000 immigrants a day all around the country, causing major disruptions in the job market and elsewhere.

The wholesale marketing of America is well on its way with the appointment of several Billionaires put into different positions of government influence.

The new Trump Crypto has been launched and is already affecting the stock markets.

Stand by for more updates while I'm still able to report them to you. The First Amendment is very fragile right now. Mark my words, "Trump will do away with almost all White House Briefings"!

Is all of this what you voted for? I don't think so!
